MIG was founded in 2000 to provide a reporting venue for witnesses of unusual events. Many unusual events occur in Missouri each year, which are not reported and subsequently are not investigated. A goal of MIG is to have representatives in each of the 115 Missouri counties. This would create a reporting network of spotters who will be aware of what is happening in their areas and report current activity to the group. Director Barbara Becker.

If you are interested in participating in this effort, please email ufomig@yahoo.com

I represent MIG, the Missouri Investigators Group based in Columbia, Mo. <http://ufomig.yolasite.com>. We investigate UFO, Animal Mutilation, Bigfoot, Crop Circle and Abduction reports in Missouri and surrounding states. If anyone in Oregon County has experienced anything unusual, please contact me by email at UFOMIG@yahoo.com or go to our website and make a report. <http://ufomig.yolasite.com/online-report-form.php> all information will be kept confidential.

Thank you, Barbara Becker

Alien Abduction

The terms or abduction phenomenon describes "memories of being taken against one's will by apparently nonhuman entities, and subjected to complex physical and psychological procedures." People claiming to have been abducted are usually called "abductees" or "experiencers." Typical claims involve being subjected to a forced medical examination that emphasizes their reproductive system.

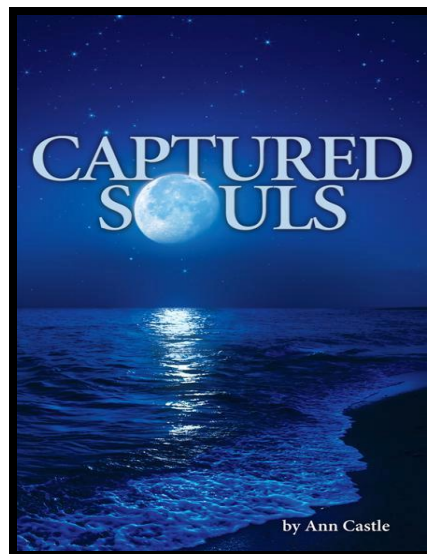

Abductees sometimes claim to have been warned against environmental abuse and the dangers of nuclear weapons. Consequently, while many of these purported encounters are described as terrifying, some have been viewed as pleasurable or transformative.

Object Photographed over Rodman Dam in Florida

Rodman Dam, Marion County, Florida on Saturday, July 6, 2013. A helicopter flew over, so, I took a picture of it. Until I looked at the pictures on my computer, I never noticed the object following the helicopter. It just looks like a "cigar shaped" object.

NEWS FROM THE INSTITUTE OF FRONTIER SCIENCE

The Institute Of Frontier Science gives a great opportunity for those who are writing or making reports in the field of Ufology, as well as seasoned researchers.

Its founder and leader is Steven S. Bass, who in addition to being the Founder and Director of the Institute is also well known and respected by everyone involved in the Ufology community.

"The Institute of Frontier Science is an elite fellowship of highly experienced and knowledgeable specialists in the scientific field of Ufology."

The Institute of Frontier Science offers people the chance to embark on the truths that lie within the UFO genre. IFS will also educate the uneducated on a subject that has been kept behind closed doors for much too long. The institute will take time to build, but already has the "Big Guns" in place. IFS is for the truth and nothing but. People are encouraged to join this great undertaking, for what I am sure will be a rewarding and educational venture into the science of Ufology.

PARANORMAL TIPS

Digital Camera Issues...Blurred Photograph

A problem with digital cameras is that they tend to need more light than a film camera to create a comparable exposure. As a result, slower shutter speeds are often used to get enough light. This can make it very difficult to take a photo without some blurring. The solution is simple: use a tripod. They're not very expensive, and you can mount almost all cameras to one. This step will result in a huge improvement in photo quality. If you have to take a photo with a slow shutter speed and you don't have your tripod handy, try using burst mode. It will take practice to hold the camera steady (hold it against your face and exhale as you press the button), but the burst will give you a better chance at getting one un-blurred picture out of the bunch.

When in doubt, go for a greater depth of field. With digital images, it is always possible to use software to take certain areas of a photo out of focus, but you can never "fix" anything that's out of focus to begin with.

If your camera has a viewfinder in the upper left corner, you may have problems with parallax, especially for close-up shots. This means that the viewfinder is looking at a slightly different area than what the lens is seeing. Cameras with a through-the-lens viewfinder don't have this problem. Using the LCD screen to line up your shot can help, but the screens still don't usually show all of what the lens is seeing, and they can make it difficult to focus properly.

Reading your camera's instruction manual and taking lots of test shots will improve your photos and knowledge of digital camera use.

Cell Phone Camera Issues

The most common cell phone problem with cell phone photos is they end up blurry. This occurs for a couple of reasons.

- Cell phone cameras need to be properly held. You always want to hold the camera steady with both hands. The tricky part is clicking the shutter button after holding and composing a shot. So one thing to remember is that typically the shutter of the camera does not activate until the button is released. That means you can first push and hold down the button, frame your shot, and then release the button to release the shutter. Avoid trying to frame the shot while you push down the button.
- Also try to rest part of your phone on one of your fingers or in the palm of your hand to get a firm grip.
- You might also try bracing your camera against a wall or on a table to help you steady a shot. Even setting up a tripod for your cell phone camera is a useful idea for portrait and group shots.

- The less ambient light you're shooting in, the more likely you're going to get blurry photos. Because you can't increase the shutter speed or open the aperture wider on a cell phone camera.
- If the shot is not blurry but still not as sharp as it needs to be, you can try using an image editor to sharpen the images — but this is less than ideal.

Shooting Moving Objects

Because cell phone cameras have slow shutter speeds, it's nearly impossible to capture moving subjects. To address this problem, you might try using a camera application that delivers multiple shots (or what is called burst mode) after the shutter is pressed. Check out camera apps for your particular type of cell phone.

The Blue Rocks

Re-told by S. E. Schlosser

Well now, the Blue Rocks have been here in Lenhartsville for nigh on forever it seems. They are a bunch of huge boulders just setting in the field, getting in everyone's way. How'd such huge stones get into that unlikely looking place? Well, that's a story, and no mistake!

Seems someone told the Devil about a New World vegetable called a potato that was the tastiest treat in the whole dad-blame county. Well, old' Lucifer was unfamiliar with the vegetable in question and asked for a description. Potatoes were round and hard, he was told; some were big, and some were small.

Satisfied with this description, the Devil got himself down to Lehigh County and started filling up his sacks with everything round and hard he could find. He collected thousands of these hard round objects, and was planning on collecting a thousand more. Then the bravest of his minions informed old' Lucifer that the objects inside his sack weren't potatoes. They were rocks. Well, that made Satan just plain mad. He had a temper tantrum that shook everything up in the whole county. He shouted and he stamped his feet and he jumped up and down. Then he ripped open those sacks and threw the rocks all over the place. The rocks landed in gullies and in rivers and on the mountains and in the fields.

A whole passel of rocks landed in the empty field near the old meeting tree. They settled deep into the ground and no one could budge them. Since the field was no good for farming after the Devil threw his "potatoes" into it, the men-folk started using it as a local meeting place. And that's how the Blue Rocks came to rest in Lenhartsville, at least, that's how the story goes.

UFO over Stonehenge?

Britain releases its last big batch of X-Files

Alan Boyle, Science Editor NBC News

A mysterious "discoïd shape" is circled in a grainy photocopy of a picture taken at Stonehenge and submitted to the British Ministry of Defense's UFO Desk in 2009. The ministry said trying to identify the speck would be an "inappropriate use of defense resources."

Britain's Ministry of Defense finished up its release of almost 60 years' worth of UFO sighting reports on Friday June 21, 2013 with a bang: a 4,300-page cache of documents that describe strange sights over Stonehenge and Parliament, and laid out the reason why the ministry shut down its UFO desk three and a half years ago.

Art Bell returning to radio with Sirius show about the paranormal.

NEW YORK (AP) -- Art Bell, radio's master of the paranormal and outward edges of science, will return to the microphone on Sept. 16 with a new nighttime show on Sirius XM Radio.

Bell was one of radio's top syndicated voices in the 1990s before walking away from his nightly show in 2002 due to family issues. He worked occasionally after that but hasn't been on the air since Halloween 2010.

"I missed it terribly," said Bell, 68, whose weeknight show will air live from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. ET. Sirius is building a studio at Bell's rural Nevada home where he will work.

Bigfoot-like space alien lands his flying saucer on isolated mountain

By ED RAUCH

In one of the most bizarre UFO encounters ever, two prominent men witnessed a Bigfoot-like creature climb aboard a flying saucer and zoom off at a blinding rate of speed.

The two Chilean men stumbled across the incredible space alien and his amazing flying craft while hiking through a remote area of the Andes Mountains last year.

They remained silent about the incident until now for fear of ridicule and endangering their jobs.

"As we neared a clearing, suddenly we saw a cigar-shaped metal vehicle with a flat top. It measured about 40 feet by 10 feet and was about 80 yards away," respected architect Oscar Zamorro told The NEWS.

"At first we thought we had stumbled upon a military installation. But when we walked around to the other side of the craft looking for insignia, we were shocked to see a hairy human-looking creature at least six feet tall.

'He could have been mistaken for a gorilla except for his human-shaped body and face'

"He could have been mistaken for a gorilla except for his human-shaped body and face.

"Beside the dark hair, the strangest thing about him was that he had no discernible neck.

"Luckily, the creature didn't see us, so we quietly slipped back behind cover of rocks and bushes where we watched and hid for about 15 minutes.

"The creature stood still and there was no movement from inside the craft. Finally we decided to move closer.

"Suddenly, a metal ladder descended and the creature began to climb it. Within seconds, he was inside the craft, which started to silently ascend. It rose like a helicopter.

"When it was about 20 yards off the ground, we were almost blinded by glaring white, red and yellow lights which illuminated the mountainside.

"After a few seconds, the craft disappeared at incredible speed, leaving only burned vegetation behind."

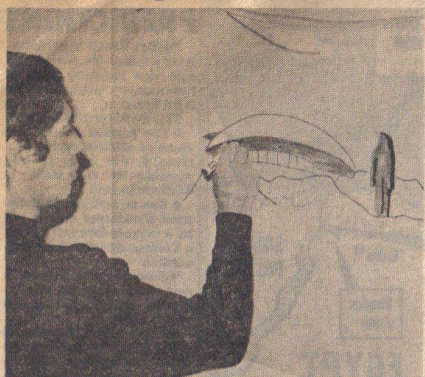

The other witness, a judge,

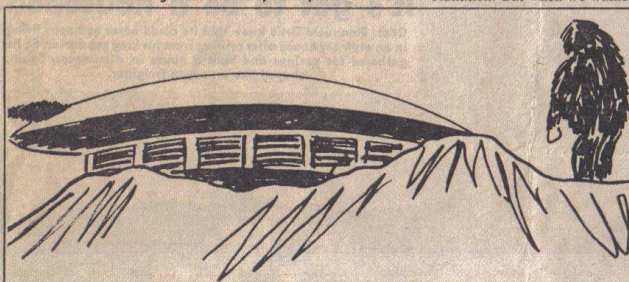

Architect Oscar Zamorro and his friend, a judge, swear their encounter is true.

said: "If you promise me confidentiality, I will state that there is no question in my mind whatever that we saw the craft and a strange, hairy creature—and that both are definitely not of this earth.

"I am still reluctant to talk about the experience to anyone because I don't want to go on record as a man who had lost his head," the judge added.

Chilean architect Oscar Zamorro draws an illustration of the gorilla-like space alien and his UFO. Below is an enlargement of the amazing craft and its ape-like pilot.

IRANIAN CREATURE FOR SALE

On August 11, 2013 at 5:15 AM we received a series of photos of the above 4cm creature from Iran. The gentleman claimed he found it 5 years ago in Karaj Iran. After some extensive search efforts it seems our submitter has been trying to peddle this creature on the net looking for a buyer for some big cash. His downfall on his claim was when he said it was 800 to 1000 yrs old and only just died about 5 to 8 years ago. When we asked how he knew that and what testing had been done he said a local person performed some test that was not evasive but told him everything he needed to know. No Carbon dating, no DNA testing, no MRI. The photo is of a mummified human fetus nowhere near developed fully. The yellow color comes from the minerals found in the soil in that part of the country (Karaj Iran).
